Cotton Report

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 .- There will be a meeting of New York cotton ex-change members on Monday to consider the proposed amendments to the by-laws which are expected to be generally approved and finally adopted by ballot early in the week. Meanwhile the plans for taking over old contracts by a syndicate are reported to be mak ing favorable progress and the tall of reopening the exchange early in November is still heard generally around the floor. Reports from spin-ning circles indicate that the mills are buying raw material only in smal lots on a scale down, and local spot dealers said that their officers from Texas were a shade lower again to-day and back to nearly the low point of the week. Weather advices were more favorable, generally clear conditions and higher temperatures be-ing reported from the South but very little crop news of any kind is com-ing in and factors which usually ex-ert a considerable influence on sentiment are naturally ineffective in the absence of open markets.

Cotton Seed Oil

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The pressure of crude oil at lower prices was again a factor in promoting hedge sales and consequent further weakness in futures today. The continued buying of Western interests was not in sufficient volume to check the decline and closing prices were unchanged at 7 points net lower. Sales 7,500 barrels. Prime crude 3.93@ 4.00; prime sum-mer yellow spot and October 5.15; November 5.14; December 5.19; January 5,28; February 5.40; March 5.56; April 5.67; May, 4.89; prime yellow and sum-mer white 5.25@6.25.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Sensational crop loss reports from Australia were largely responsible today for a continued advance in the price of wheat. The market closed nervous at 7-8 to 1 3-8c above last night. Corn finished 3-4 to 7-8 up, oats with a gain of %c and provisions strung out from 10c decline to a rise of 20c.

Grain and provisions closed.

Wheat, December 1.14 1-4; May 1.20 1-2.

Corn, December 67%; May 7014. Oats, December 4916; May, 5214.

Liverpool Cotton LIVERPOOL. Oct. 17.—Cotton, spot quiet; sales 3,700 bales, including 2,900 American on the basis of 5.05 for middling. Imports 3,391 bales, including 1,936 American.

Dry Goods

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The dry goods jobbing trade was reasonably quiet today. Cotton goods and yarns were irregular and unsteady. Burlaps were dull and weak. Linens were steady. Underwear was in better demand for home and foreign use.

New York Cotton

New Orleans Cotton New Orleans Cotton

New Orleans, Oct. 17.—Spot brokers and buyers reported a somewhat better feeling in the market for actual cotton today and the feeling was reflected in the unexpected advance of one sixteenth in spot prices here, middling being quoted at 6%.

This was all the more surprising in view of the reduction of one-eighth in price in Rallas, where middling was quoted at 6% on sales of 7554 bales.

Little liquidation of futures was done. January was quoted at 7.25 bid and 7.30 asks. Spot cotton quiet; sales 243; to arrive 70°.

GOOD MEETING

Interesting Discussions Marked Deliberation of Large Church Body from Beginning.

Anderson Presbyterians, as well as was in Presbyterians in all parts of the State, hours. have been much interested in the 102nd. sesion of the Synod of South Carolina in session all this week at Union. Synod has concluded its delib-erations and adjourned yesterday and today those who attended from this city will return. The following from Union tells of the last day's proceed-ings of the body: "At this morning's session of the Presbyterian synod there was a lively discussion over the vote of a special committee on education, which seeks to provide for the Presbyterian College of South Carolina at Clinton in a more liberal manner than heretofore as that institution is in need of such assistance at the present time.

"It is thought that synod will com plete all official business either this afternoon or early tonight, though on account of discussions that may arise this cannot be foretold.

"The synod this morning decided that the meeting next year will be in the Oakland Avenue Presbyterian church at Rock Hill. Rev. Alexander

Martin, pastor.

Last Night's Session.

The subject of home missions was ably presented at last night's session of the Presbyterian synod which is in session here by Rev. J. B. Greene, of Greenwood, and Rev. G. G. Mayes, of Greenwood, and Rev. G. G. Mayes, of Greenville, the synod evangelist.

"Rev. Mf. Greene declared that America itself was the greatest mission field in the world because of the many nationalities here, and the religions they represent, it being stated that in New York alone there are over forty languages spoken. In the course of his address Mr. reene pointed out that by influencing all immigrants as soon as they reach America and bring them into the church of Christ that to their native homes in a year or so would thus, the gospel be carried back to their people and in turn they would become real missionaries.

Women in the Church. "At the afternoon session there was a lively discussion as to the part that women should take in religious services whenever they are mixed assemblies, Rev. Geo. Blackburn of Columbla advocating that they not be al-lowed to even read verses of Scrip-tures or take any part whatever in religious meetings, whenever there was a man present, Rev. E. C. Bailey supporting Dr. Blackburn's position. "Opposing this movement to have ynod commit itself against women taking part ecen in such minor par as reading verses of Scripture were many of the members of the synod many of the members of the synod among them Dr. Jas. C. Reavis of Columbia, who said that however, he was not in favor of women preaching or holding official positions in the church, still from experience which he cited he showed the great value of women co-operating in the young people's societies and other organizations of the church work where there were men and women working together for the advancement of the church. the inability to market raw cotton continues to impede trade in many ways.

Colored goods are not being revised to any extent. A revision of only 4c at yard was made on some lines of branded bleached cottons sold to the jobbing trade. A much sharper revision is looked for when the time comes er for the advancement of the church. "Dr. Reavis caused a ripple of laughter to pass over the synod when he made the striking point that as the women were in the majority in all the church almost without exception, and as under the church rule." they er for the advancement of the church cials, it was really the women that named the deacons, elders and the pastors themselves, and he laughingly added if the church tried to limit woman's work so completely there may be no preacher. When put to a laste synod by a big majority refused to indorse Dr. Blackburn's position.
